in the Harvard-Yale-Princeton Club of Pittsburgh on December 13, 1938.

The Society issued medals in 1878 and 1879 as official souvenirs of the Pittsburgh Exposition in those years. Each was struck in silver, white metal, bronze and brass, and although no record survives of the numbers struck, complete sets are difficult to obtain. The medal issued in 1928 was designed by the late Andrey Avinoff and was produced by the Medallic Art Company of New York; 10 were struck in silver and 400 in bronze. All of these pieces are illustrated in the present publication.

Close ties have been maintained with the American Numismatic Association, to which the Society was host at its annual convention in August, 1935. This was the second visit of the A. N. A. to Pittsburgh. The Association's first convention, following its organization in Chicago in 1891, was held at Niagara Falls, N. Y., in the spring of 1892, but adjourned to complete its business later in the same year at Pittsburgh. Relations with the Carnegie Museum, where the Society's meetings have been held for many years, have also been most cordial. Andrey Avinoff, Director of the Museum from 1926 to 1945, was an honorary member, as was George H. Clapp, our last surviving charter member and long a Trustee of the Museum, while four other members have served as curators or associates in the Museum's Section of Coins.

The present issue of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Society comes in the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary year. The Membership Roster which is included attempts to list all members with the years of their election to membership. This has been based upon the Roster published in 1938, amended by later additions to the membership and by information gleaned from further study of old records. It is probable that errors and omissions still exist since minutes of many early meetings have been lost or destroyed. It is hoped that members and former members will communicate to the Secretary any information that they may have which will provide correction of these defects.

HISTORICAL

(Revised and Edited, 1959, by Ray Byrne)

On June 14, 1878, eight men met informally in Pittsburgh to organize a society for the study of numismatic science and for exchange of ideas and information. On that date the Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society came into being. The founders were:

George H. Clapp	S. H. Morgan
Frank J. Kirk	John Rivett
E. F. Maynard	George W. Rode
Henry McKnight	R. W. Shipman

This group continued informal meetings during the first year, and on June 20, 1879, when the membership roll included seventeen names, the first officers were elected. These officers were:

S. H. Morgan, President
Frank J. Kirk, Vice-President
George W. Rode, Secretary
E. F. Maynard, Treasurer
J. E. H. Kelley, Curator

The present constitution and a set of by-laws were adopted on November 21, 1879, and these original documents, subscribed to with the signatures of the early members, remain in the Society's possession. After some years, disagreements arose among the members which resulted in a formal dissolution of the Society on December 6, 1889, and the library and cabinet were divided among the members at that time. The Society remained dormant until 1910, when it was revised by some of its members, who organized it under the original constitution.

Since its revival, the Society has continued to grow and flourish, much of the credit for which belongs to George F. Marlier who served as President through many of its most difficult years. The library has been re-established and continues to grow; monthly meetings have proved to be a valuable source of information and mutual help to the membership. The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Society was celebrated by a dinner at the Rittenhouse Hotel, in Pittsburgh, on June 14, 1928, at which time a medal was issued to commemorate the occasion. The Sixtieth Anniversary was also marked by a dinner in the Harvard-Yale-Princeton Club of Pittsburgh on December 13, 1938.

The Society issued medals in 1878 and 1879 as official souvenirs of the Pittsburgh Exposition in those years. Each was struck in silver, white metal, bronze and brass, and although no record survives of the numbers struck, complete sets are difficult to obtain. The medal issued in 1928 was designed by the late Andrey Avinoff and was produced by the Medallic Art Company of New York; 10 were struck in silver and 400 in bronze. All of these pieces are illustrated in the present publication.

Close ties have been maintained with the American Numismatic Association, to which the Society was host at its annual convention in August, 1935. This was the second visit of the A. N. A. to Pittsburgh. The Association's first convention, following its organization in Chicago in 1891, was held at Niagara Falls, N. Y., in the spring of 1892, but adjourned to complete its business later in the same year at Pittsburgh. Relations with the Carnegie Museum, where the Society's meetings have been held for many years, have also been most cordial, Andrey Avinoff, Director of the Museum from 1926 to 1945, was an honorary member, as was George H. Clapp, our last surviving charter member and long a Trustee of the Museum, while four other members have served as curators or associates in the Museum's Section of Coins.

The present issue of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Society comes in the Eighty-Second Anniversary year. The Membership Roster which is included attempts to list all members with the years of their election to membership. This has been based upon the Roster published in 1938, amended by later additions to the membership and by information gleaned from further study of old records. It is probable that errors and omissions still exist since minutes of many early meetings have been lost or destroyed. It is hoped that members and former members will communicate to the Secretary any information that they may have which will provide correction of these defects.

HISTORICAL

On June 14, 1878, eight men met informally in Pittsburgh to organize a society for the study of numismatic science and for exchange of ideas and information. On that date the Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society came into being. The founders were:

George H. Clapp	S. H. Morgan
Frank J. Kirk	John Rivett
E. F. Maynard	George W. Rode
Henry McKnight	R. W. Shipman

This group continued informal meetings during the first year, and on June 20, 1879, when the membership roll included seventeen names, the first officers were elected. These officers were:

S. H. Morgan, President
Frank J. Kirk, Vice-President
George W. Rode, Secretary
E. F. Maynard, Treasurer
J. E. H. Kelley, Curator

The present constitution and a set of by-laws were adopted on November 21, 1879, and these original documents, subscribed to with the signatures of the early members, remain in the Society's possession. After some years, disagreements arose among the members which resulted in a formal dissolution of the Society on December 6, 1889, and the library and cabinet were divided among the members at that time. The Society remained dormant until 1910, when it was revised by some of its members, who organized it under the original constitution.

Since its revival, the Society has continued to grow and flourish, much of the credit for which belongs to George F. Marlier who served as President through many of its most difficult years. The library has been re-established and continues to grow; monthly meetings have proved to be a valuable source of information and mutual help to the membership. The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Society was celebrated by a dinner at the Rittenhouse Hotel, in Pittsburgh, on June 14, 1928, at which time a medal was issued to commemorate the occasion. The Sixtieth Anniversary was also marked by a dinner in the Harvard-Yale-Princeton Club of Pittsburgh on December 13, 1938.

The Society issued medals in 1878 and 1879 as official souvenirs of the Pittsburgh Exposition in those years. Each was struck in silver, white metal, bronze and brass, and although no record survives of the numbers struck, complete sets are difficult to obtain. The medal issued in 1928 was designed by the late Andrey Avinoff and was produced by the Medallic Art Company of New York; 10 were struck in silver and 400 in bronze. All of these pieces are illustrated in the present publication.

Close ties have been maintained with the American Numismatic Association, to which the Society was host at its annual convention in August, 1935. This was the second visit of the A. N. A. to Pittsburgh. The Association's first convention, following its organization in Chicago in 1891, was held at Niagara Falls, N. Y., in the spring of 1892, but adjourned to complete its business later in the same year at Pittsburgh. Relations with the Carnegie Museum, where the Society's meetings have been held for many years, have also been most cordial, Andrey Avinoff, Director of the Museum from 1926 to 1945, was an honorary member, as was George H. Clapp, our last surviving charter member and long a Trustee of the Museum, while four other members have served as curators or associates in the Museum's Section of Coins.

The present issue of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Society comes in the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary year. The Membership Roster which is included attempts to list all members with the years of their election to membership. This has been based upon the Roster published in 1938, amended by later additions to the membership and by information gleaned from further study of old records. It is probable that errors and omissions still exist since minutes of many early meetings have been lost or destroyed. It is hoped that members and former members will communicate to the Secretary any information that they may have which will provide correction of these defects.

Mr. Roger Heim
Medallic Art Company
325 East 45th Street
New York 17, New York

Dear Mr. Heim:

In accordance with our telephone conversation yesterday, I reported Medallic Art's preferences with respect to the dies of the Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society's Commemorative Medallion.

It is the desire of the group however to obtain the dies as planned and without any alteration, disfigurement, distortion, or defacing, (line or otherwise) of any nature. In taking this action, the Society of course releases Medallic Arts of any subsequent responsibility.

I have therefore been directed to request that shipment be made to me at the above address. You may either bill the Society for the shipment charges or send them collect, whichever is most convenient to you.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

Sincerely yours

G.A. Mooney
Secretary-Treas.
